

ROSLYN J. LEVINE, Q.C. is a senior litigation lawyer and Associate Deputy Regional Director in the Ontario Regional Office of the Department of Justice (Canada) in Toronto. She is a graduate of McGill University, where she received both B.C.L. and LL.B degrees and received her LL.M. (Constitutional Law) in 2000 from Osgoode Hall Law School. She was appointed Queen's Counsel in 1993 and became a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers in 2006.

Ms. Levine was appointed counsel for the Department of Justice upon her call to the Ontario Bar in 1978 and has been a member of the Department since that time. From 1993 to 1996, she served as head of the Civil Litigation Section. More recently Ms. Levine assisted in developing the Justice Department's Supreme Court Excellence Program and she continues to serve as a member of the Department's Supreme Court Excellence Committee.

Ms. Levine's practice consists of a variety of constitutional and administrative law cases at all court levels. Among the numerous constitutional cases she has argued in the Supreme Court of Canada are: Benner v. Canada (Secretary of State); B. (R.) v. Children's Aid Society of Metropolitan Toronto, Thomson Newspapers Co. v. Canada (Attorney General), Figueroa v. Canada (Attorney General), R. v. S.A.B., Canadian Foundation for Children Youth and the Law v. Canada, H.L. v. Canada (Attorney General), May v. Ferndale Institution and Hislop v. Canada (Attorney General). Ms. Levine was counsel for the Attorney General of Canada in the Ontario courts in the same-sex marriage cases, Halpern v. Canada and MCCT v. Canada. She has taught, written and spoken extensively on topics related to the Charter, administrative law, Crown practice and Supreme Court practice for the Law Society of Upper Canada, the OBA, Osgoode Hall Law School, University of Toronto Law School and other continuing legal education institutes. Ms. Levine is a recent recipient of the Ontario Bar Association's inaugural Tom Marshall Award of Excellence for public sector lawyers.